GENERAL	GENERAL
Comply fully (100%) with all the recommendations during the last survey of Level 4 Phase 1.	1. Ensure prompt uploading of documents and consistency in the organization of files to make them Accreditor-friendly. 2. Give utmost consideration to adhering to the guidelines set for the level of accreditation when coming up with a comprehensive Narrative Profile. 3. Thoroughly address the recommendations being complied with by doing what is specifically asked for, covering the period specified, and providing relevant and adequate evidence.
PERFORMANCE OF GRADUATES	PERFORMANCE OF GRADUATES
1. Come up with a comprehensive 5-year Tracer Study (2018-2023) on the employability and work performance of BS Biology graduates to monitor and continually evaluate their achievement/performance. Consider adapting the CHED graduate tracer study instrument, introducing improvements or modifications to gather sufficient and appropriate data on: a. employability in BS Biology-related professions/careers/occupations - career mobility of the graduates - professional or work-related training program(s), including advance studies attended after college b. achievements, awards, and recognition received for outstanding work performance, innovations/ significant contributions c. employer evaluation of graduates'	1. The program may consider producing a collection of success stories of its outstanding alumni in a book report.

	COMMUNITY SERVICE
	1. Prepare a comprehensive "Extension Program/Plan" for 2025-2029. The program must contain the specific program(s)/projects/studies, the persons involved, budget, schedule of implementation, schedule of activities, etc. a. Implement the program(s) and the specific projects/activities. b. Make a well-documented quarterly/bi-annual/annual report(s) on the accomplishments and consolidate these reports to come up with an overall accomplishment report in 2029. c. Ensure that the Extension Program/Plan deals with activities aligned to the program's Extension Agenda and with the field of expertise of the faculty involved. 2. Conduct a comprehensive evaluation of the impact and long-term sustainability of the PRACTICE Program, highlighting the project's contributions to regional and national agenda and the actual benefits/improvements it brought about in the quality of the social and/or economic lives of the beneficiaries.
	RESEARCH
	1. Make a commercialization Plan out of research published. 2. Submit research outputs for copyright. 3. Continue the endeavor and spirit of submitting more international research presentations and publications. 4. Provide evidence of the utilization of the research results and outputs of the faculty, such as in the development of various instructional materials and/or as the basis of sustainable extension programs and projects, including impact assessment. 5. Provide list of software for research endeavor.
	INTERNATIONAL LINKAGES AND CONSORTIA
	1. Conduct a study/analysis on the effectiveness of the Program's planning process and activity on Linkages. 2. Faculty collaboration in international academic pursuits is encouraged for the purpose of benchmarking best practices that may be implemented by the college to enhance the program. 3. A review shall be conducted on the forged MOU/MOA to ascertain the benefits derived from the partnership/consortia/linkages, as well as any concern generated. A directory of the program's connections/partnerships/ consortia must be maintained. Moreover, review MOAs/MOUs that need renewal.

	PLANNING PROCESS
	1. Prepare a comprehensive annual BS Biology Quality Assurance Plan anchored on the University QA Plan. The plan should indicate the different quality assurance mechanisms where the program is involved, the program targets/objectives, strategies, timeline, persons involved, resources needed, and performance indicators/expected outputs. Equivalent, well-documented accomplishment reports should be generated to monitor the implementation of the set plans. 2. Ensure the active involvement of all stakeholders in the strategic planning process of the college/program to ensure that the plans developed reflect diverse perspectives and priorities. Substantial documentation of the involvement in the strategic planning process of all stakeholders is highly recommended.
